YOU CAN REALLY FEEL THE CULTURE

We have an extraordinary, thrilling cultural heritage. Take one of the amazing historical routes in mainland Spain or visit any of our 15 World Heritage Cities. Discover the legacy left by the different cultures that have passed through the country, along with exquisite cuisine, and thousand-year-old festivals and traditions.

MUSEUMS

Spain has a network of over 1,600 museums with some of the best collections in the world. Here are some of the most famous, but there are many more. In almost every city and town you'll find minor museum treasures that are well worth a visit.

▲ REINA SOFÍA NATIONAL ART MUSEUM
MADRID

PRADO NATIONAL MUSEUM (MADRID)

One of the world's greatest art galleries for the quality and scope of its collection. Inside you'll find treasures by masters like Velázquez, Rembrandt, Goya and many others.

The best idea is study each painting and hall in detail. But if you really don't have much time, the museum's website will suggest a number of short itineraries so you don't end up missing the essential works.

📍 www.museodelprado.es

THYSSEN-BORNEMISZA NATIONAL MUSEUM (MADRID)

Very near the Prado, it houses works from some of the most important pictorial schools of Western art. The museum's collection reflects the tastes of its founders, the Thyssen-Bornemisza family, who have spent many years building up a collection which includes prominent works by Raphael, Titian, Cézanne, Van Gogh, Picasso, Rodin and Hopper, to name just a few from an impressive list of top-flight artists.

REINA SOFÍA NATIONAL ART MUSEUM (MADRID)

This museum houses one of the finest collections of contemporary Spanish art, with important artists like Dalí, Miró, Gris and Tápies. This is where you can see the gallery's star painting, the Guernica by Picasso.

In the two buildings you'll find important works by artists from all over the world and in every imaginable format, with contributions by Kandinsky, Francis Bacon, Diego Rivera, Robert Delaunay and Yves Klein.

▲ BILBAO GUGGENHEIM MUSEUM

GUGGENHEIM MUSEUM BILBAO (BILBAO)

This spectacular titanium building designed by the prestigious architect Frank Gehry has become an icon of this Basque city. It houses a magnificent collection of contemporary art.

The outside of the building is a work of art in itself. The metallic reflective panels on the façade shine with different colours, depending on the time of day and the weather conditions. In the surrounding area there are gigantic sculptures like Puppy, the iconic floral dog by Jeff Koons which stands guard at the entrance to the museum. Inside, no two galleries are the same. There are large-format works alternating with others in a much smaller ones. This makes your visit a constant surprise.

▲ NEOCUEVA - ALTAMIRA NATIONAL MUSEUM AND RESEARCH CENTRE
SANTILLANA DEL MAR, CANTABRIA

ALTAMIRA NATIONAL MUSEUM AND RESEARCH CENTRE (CANTABRIA)

Travel back in time to the prehistoric era. Discovered at the end of the 19th century, Altamira Cave in Santillana del Mar (Cantabria) was declared a UNESCO World Heritage Site in 1985. Its walls and ceilings preserve more than 260 paintings and engravings of bison, horses and deer which are around 18,000 years old. It is regarded as the "Sistine Chapel" of cave art.

In order to preserve it in its original state as much as possible, visits to the interior of the cave are restricted. The best way of exploring this fabulous legacy of cave art is to visit the Neocueva, an exact three-dimensional replica of Altamira.

DALÍ THEATRE-MUSEUM (GIRONA)

Discover the surprising life and times of Salvador Dalí in Figueres, the location for this temple to surrealism. Entering the museum is like looking through the keyhole into this brilliant artist's subconscious.

All the works have a double meaning, little secrets which are an essential feature of the experience of visiting the galleries without a pre-established route. Just let yourself go and look at it through the eyes of a child looking for games, symbols and dialogues between the different works created by Dalí.

MONUMENTS

Discover our incredible monumental heritage which includes some of the world's most extraordinarily beautiful historical marvels. Here are just a few of those with the most visitors.

► BASILICA OF LA SAGRADA FAMILIA
BARCELONA

THE ALHAMBRA IN GRANADA

The ancient citadel, fortress and place of residence of the Nasrid sultans, the Alhambra, UNESCO World Heritage, is Granada's supreme artistic treasure. A stroll round its fabulous palaces and gardens with their lovely fountains and pools will take you back in time to another era. And if you visit at night, you'll understand the true meaning of the word magic.

📍 www.alhambra-patronato.es

THE BASILICA OF LA SAGRADA FAMILIA

The first stone for this temple, located in the heart of Barcelona and the supreme example of Catalan Modernist architecture, was laid in 1882. It was a year later when the architect Antoni Gaudí returned to the project to which he would dedicate 40 years of his life. It is not yet finished, but the incomparable architecture and decorative features full of symbolism attract millions of visitors.

▲ SANTIAGO CATHEDRAL
SANTIAGO DE COMPOSTELA

GREAT MOSQUE-CATHEDRAL OF CORDOBA

This architectural treasure in the lovely historic centre of the city of Cordoba is a symbol of the Muslim legacy in Spain. It is a veritable forest of columns and superimposed arches, domes, carved marble, mosaics, drawings... And in the centre, a surprising Christian cathedral.

📍 www.mezquita-catedraldecordoba.es

CATHEDRAL OF SANTIAGO DE COMPOSTELA

Located in Galicia, in the province of A Coruña, it is the final destination for thousands of pilgrims at the end of the Way of Saint James. It is one of the finest examples of Romanesque art in the Iberian Peninsula, although its numerous extensions have left the imprint of other styles, like the Baroque of the Obradoiro, its monumental façade.

📍 catedraldesantiago.es

BURGOS CATHEDRAL

This essential visit for lovers of Gothic art is located in the historical old town in Burgos (Castile-León). World Heritage Site, here lie the mortal remains of El Cid, the hero of the Reconquista in the 11th century. You'll be amazed by the elegance and beauty of its soaring towers with their Germanesque fretwork spires.

📍 www.catedraldeburgos.es

THE ALCÁZAR IN SEGOVIA

This 12th-century fortified palace built at the confluence of two rivers was the place of residence for Castilian monarchs. A moat with a drawbridge, a tower that looks like the prow of a ship, twin lancet windows, luxurious halls decorated by Mudejar artists, the weapons museum... It will make you feel like you're in a fairy-tale.

MAJORCA CATHEDRAL

A treasure of Gothic art, it was built over the city walls in Palma de Mallorca's historical old town. It has one of the most spectacular rose windows in the world: the "Gothic eye", with a diameter of over 13 metres. It was remodelled by Antonio Gaudí and contains a spectacular mural by the Mallorcan painter Miquel Barceló.

📍 catedraldemallorca.org

▲ THE ALCÁZAR IN SEGOVIA

THE BASILICA OF NUESTRA SEÑORA DEL PILAR

This Baroque cathedral, on the banks of the Ebro River in Zaragoza, is one of the most important centres of Marian devotion in the world. Inside you'll find real treasures including two frescos by the artist Francisco de Goya.

▲ THE GIRALDA
SEVILLE

ROMAN THEATRE IN MÉRIDA

This theatre, in Mérida in the province of Badajoz, is part of an archaeological site (World Heritage Site) that includes an amphitheatre and a Roman circus. What is the best way to learn all about it? On a warm summer evening during the International Classic Theatre Festival, you can attend a performance exactly like the Romans did over two thousand years ago.

📍 www.festivaldemerida.es

THE GIRALDA

What used to be a minaret for the Moorish mosque is now the bell tower for the Cathedral of Santa María de la Sede in Seville (World Heritage Site). It is 104 metres high and for more than 800 years it was the tallest structure in the city. Climb up the ramparts to the belfry where you'll have amazing views over the city.

📍 www.catedraldesevilla.es

WORLD HERITAGE CITIES

Spain is one of the countries in the world with most assets acknowledged by the UNESCO. Proof of this are the 15 World Heritage Cities. We'll take you on a journey to discover their culture, history, architecture and customs dating back more than a thousand years.

Toledo, a city famous historically for the harmonious coexistence between Muslims, Jews and Christians, and Salamanca, renowned as the home of one of the oldest universities in the world, invite you to discover the history of our country through their streets and monuments. Visit the picturesque historical old town of Cordoba and discover its greatest treasure, the Mosque-Cathedral, one of the finest examples of Moorish art.

Ávila, (Castile-León) with its extraordinary city walls, and Cáceres

(Extremadura), with its cobbled streets, medieval fortress-houses and towers, will take you back to the Middle Ages. Alcalá de Henares (Region of Madrid), the birthplace of Cervantes, is the site of Europe's oldest open-air theatre, the Corral de Comedias, and in Santiago de Compostela (Galicia) you'll discover treasures in the Romanesque, Gothic and Baroque styles.

Other World Heritage cities not to be missed include Úbeda and Baeza (Jaén, Andalusia), with their incredible Renaissance palaces and churches, and Cuenca (Castile-La Mancha), where you'll see the astonishing Hanging Houses blending seamlessly with the natural surroundings.

The Roman legacy is alive and well in Mérida (Extremadura), Segovia (Castile-León) and Tarragona (Catalonia), where there are some of the best-preserved remains in the Iberian Peninsula. They have theatres, aqueducts and amphitheatres that will take you back in time.

You'll also find priceless cultural attractions in the islands. The streets in the city of San Cristóbal de La Laguna in Tenerife offer an insight into the origins of Latin-American town planning. Finally in the Mediterranean, Ibiza (Balearic Islands), was recognised by the UNESCO on account of its culture and biodiversity.

FESTIVITIES

Spain is a cheerful and open-minded country. We invite you to discover our customs and spend a few days sharing unforgettable festivities with us.

Easter Week is one of Spain's most authentic festivities, and one with centuries of tradition. Devotion on the streets, art and the solemn magic of the processions fill the streets in most of Spain's towns and cities.

Easter Week in Seville (Andalusia) deserves a special mention. The climax is the Madrugá, the night between Thursday and Friday when the Passion of Christ is recreated, and when thousands of people flock to join the procession that accompanies the religious images. You ought to sample the traditional desert at this time: torrijas (bread soaked in eggs and milk, the toasted and fried).

▼ EASTER WEEK
SEVILLE

▲ CARNIVAL IN TENERIFE

The spirit of religious fervour and devotion you'll see in Easter Week is in total contrast to the atmosphere during Carnival which takes place before Lent. These colourful festivities feature uninhibited high spirits and the freedom to say what you like, with parades full of fantasy and the rhythm of the music. Apart from the world-famous Carnival in Santa Cruz de Tenerife (Canary Islands), the festivities are especially entertaining in Cadiz (Andalusia) and Águilas (Murcia).

During Las Fallas in Valencia, the whole city is devoted to its greatest festivity. During the week of 19 March, the city is filled with ninots (gigantic structures made of wood, cardboard and plaster, all based on socially critical humour) which end up as spectacular bonfires on the last night, called the cremà.

Festivities in honour of Patron Saints are a unique way of discovering the cultural wealth of the different regions and cities in Spain. You'll simply love the Festival of Santiago Apóstol (Santiago de Compostela, A Coruña), San Isidro (Madrid) and La Mercé (Barcelona).

ROUTES

Would you like to try a different way of discovering the history, culture, nature and gastronomy of Spain? Then these cultural routes are just the thing for you.

▲ WAY OF SAINT JAMES

One of the most renowned is the Way of Saint James, included in the UNESCO World Heritage List in 1993. It consists of a network of itineraries which each year attract hundreds of thousands of pilgrims for different reasons, spiritual, cultural or tourism. Apart from enjoying nature in all its splendour, on the different stages you'll find incredible monuments of great historical value and get to know so many people from different parts of the world.

📍 www.caminodesantiago.gal

Follow in the footsteps of Roman soldiers along the Silver Way Route, 800 kilometres across most of western Spain and dating back to time immemorial. It follows the course of an ancient Roman road that linked Seville (Andalusia) with Gijón (Asturias). You could take up the challenge and try some stages on foot or by bike, or enjoy the wonderful natural landscapes as you travel along by car on what is called the Silver Motorway.

📍 www.rutadelaplata.com

The Routes of the Al-Andalus Legacy are a fantastic option for cultural tourism and discovering Andalusia's Moorish past. These routes trace a historical line which unites a unique monumental heritage: The Alhambra in Granada, the final refuge of the Moors in mainland Spain, the Great Mosque-Cathedral in Cordoba, the Giralda in Seville and historical old towns of Moorish origin like Alcalá la Real (Jaén).

① www.legadoandalusi.es

The Don Quixote Route will take you to places where this famous character created by Miguel de Cervantes had his knightly adventures. Follow his footsteps through centuries-old towns, ancient windmills, legendary castles, vineyards and wonderful areas of natural beauty in the regions of Castile-La Mancha, Aragón and Catalonia.

Lovers of history will be fascinated by the Carlos V Route, an enthralling voyage back in time in the towns he passed through after abdicating in 1556. The itinerary includes delightful places along the route from Laredo (Cantabria) where he disembarked with a full entourage to the beautiful Monastery of Yuste (Extremadura), where we retired after his historical 40-year reign.

① www.spainculturalroutes.com/rutas-carlos-v

COME AND SEE AN OPERA IN SPAIN

You'll be surprised how much opera you can see in the great theatres in iconic cities like Madrid, Barcelona, Seville and Oviedo.

▲ TEATRO REAL
MADRID

There are unique opera houses, like the Teatro Real in Madrid and the Gran Teatre del Liceu in Barcelona, two cultural temples full of art and history. The former, located facing the Royal Palace, is an ideal starting point for exploring the district called El Madrid de los Austrias. The latter is perfectly placed for a tour of Barcelona's famous Paseo de La Rambla, before or after the opera.

Tourism in Spain's cities is a thrilling adventure for people of all ages. Visit the best exhibitions in the world, thrill to a Flamenco show and travel back in time as you stroll through a medieval quarter... Here are a few suggestions.

▲ MADRID

MADRID

Spain's capital city has a vast cultural heritage and modern infrastructure which makes it easy to explore. You really shouldn't miss the Paseo del Arte or Art Walk, part of the Landscape of Light (World Heritage since 2021), with three of the best art collections in the world, right next to each other: the Prado National Museum, the Thyssen-Bornemisza National Museum and the Reina Sofía National Art Museum.

THERE ARE UNFORGETTABLE EXPERIENCES

You can purchase a Paseo del Arte combined ticket for all three on the websites or in the ticket offices of any of the museums. On this walk you'll also see the monumental fountains of Cibeles and Neptuno and be able to visit the Botanical Gardens.

Take a walk through the Madrid de los Austrias, the home of such representative monuments as the Puerta del Sol, the Plaza Mayor and the Royal Palace, where you will find the Gallery of Royal Collections. When it's time to rest, sit down on a terrace with a vermouth or go to the San Miguel Market for a few gourmet tapas.

In Madrid there is a broad selection of theatres and venues for shows. The Gran Vía is a great place for seeing a musical or a theatre play.

▲ GOTHIC QUARTER
BARCELONA

In this Mediterranean city, the capital of Catalonia, Roman remains and medieval neighbourhoods (like the famous Gothic Quarter) can be found alongside modern avant-garde buildings. A fantastic place for taking a walk. Here you'll find La Sagrada Familia, one of the city's icons, designed by Antoni Gaudí and the flagship of Modernism. This genius left his mark all around the city, with extraordinary works like the colourful Güell Park and the renowned La Pedrera-Casa Milá and Casa Batlló buildings, where light, colour and organic shapes blend together with wood, glass and stoneware.

This is a city that's open to the world: venue for international events and promoter of the latest trends. A simple walk along the Rambla is enough to observe the cosmopolitan spirit of this city that attracts travellers from cultures around the world.

VALENCIA

This city on the shores of the Mediterranean has one of the largest historical old towns in Spain. It's the capital of the Region of Valencia, famous for its beaches and its exceptional climate, it's also home to one of the most extensive scientific and cultural complexes in Europe: the City of Arts and Sciences. It is made up of six spectacular structures providing a range of activities relating to science, art, nature and technology.

▲ OLD TOWN

You'll find traditional Valencia in the old town, with architectural gems like the Lonja de la Seda Silk Exchange (World Heritage). It is one of the most impressive civil Gothic buildings in Europe, and includes such fascinating elements as the Hall of Columns and the Patio of the Orange Trees. Nearby you'll find the Miguelete as the bell tower of Valencia Cathedral is known. From the top, 50 metres up, you get an incredible panoramic view of the city.

▲ OLD TOWN
BILBAO

BILBAO

A Basque city which has been able to coordinate its rich industrial past with truly futuristic artistic trends. The Guggenheim Museum Bilbao is the highlight of its architectural renewal, but there are many other examples: the entrances to the Metro designed by the architect Norman Foster, the Alhóndiga building restored by Philippe Starck and converted into the Azkuna Zentroa Cultural Centre, Calatrava's Zubizuri bridge... An aura of modernity which coexists in harmony with the historical old town, a maze of streets ideal for strolling about and trying some delicious tapas which they call pintxos.

📍 www.bilbaoturismo.net

SEVILLE

Located on the banks of the Guadalquivir river, the capital of Andalusia will captivate you with all the joie de vivre to be found in the busy streets and squares. The influence of the Moorish culture has left an especially beautiful mark on the historical old town. Visit the popular neighbourhood of Triana, with countless taverns and tablaos (establishments dedicated exclusively to Flamenco dance and singing), and ride in a horse-drawn carriage around the Plaza de España and the María Luisa Park, two of the city's most charming features. Your visit should also include the Fine Arts Museum, the Alameda de Hércules and the Cathedral of Santa María de la Sede.

▲ FABADA ASTURIANA

TRADITIONAL CUISINE

Each region in Spain has a wide variety of irresistible, exquisite, traditional dishes. Everything from hearty stews like cocido madrileño and fabada asturiana to rice dishes like paella valenciana and the delicious deserts and sweets produced in each region. Try green vegetables in season, the fish from our seas and rivers prepared in a wide variety of ways, and seafood, a highly prized ingredient in Spanish cuisine. And surrender to temptation with the delicious Iberian cured ham, one of the great treasures in the Spanish larder.

MODERN CUISINE

You'll be amazed by the exquisite inventions of chefs like Carme Ruscalleda, Juan Mari Arzak, Ferran Adrià, David Muñoz, Fina Puigdevall and Joan Roca. These are just a few of the top Spanish chefs who have managed to transform cooking into an art. Inspired by traditional recipes and with the help of innovative techniques they have created unique dishes that will captivate your senses. Their ideas have become famous all around the world: Spanish chefs have over 300 Michelin stars between them.

THE MEDITERRANEAN DIET

It is varied, tasty and good for your health. It has also been acknowledged by the UNESCO as an Intangible Cultural Heritage because it involves so much more than mere healthy food: it's a way of life that focuses on traditionally prepared ingredients, eating with friends and family, respecting the land and biodiversity, and preserving traditional fishing and farming activities. Virgin olive oil is one of the key ingredients. You can take part in a tasting and savour the real flavour of the Mediterranean.

WINE TOURISM

With nearly a million hectares of vineyards, Spain is one of the world's greatest wine producers and there are about 97 Protected Designations of Origin. Apart from enjoying excellent wines in the bars and restaurants, it's a good idea to take part in the grape-harvest festivals that take place all over the country at the beginning of October.

Take one of the wine routes and visit ancient and avant-garde wineries, sleep surrounded by vineyards and discover the secrets of pairing wine and food with the help of expert sommeliers. These routes are ideal for lovers of gastronomic tourism.

SHOPPING

If you love shopping, Spain's the place for you. Here you'll find the best fashion labels, outlets selling top brands, and designer stores. There are also numerous traditional markets and antique shops. Cities like Madrid, Barcelona and Málaga are just a few of the places where you can enjoy a fantastic day out shopping. Here are a few of the most glamorous possibilities.

You'll be seduced by luxury in the Golden Mile in Madrid. In the heart of the Salamanca neighbourhood you'll find shops with the most prestigious brands, including the best Spanish companies and some of the cities most exclusive shopping centres. Very close to Puerta del Sol, you will find the exclusive Galería Canalejas, with over 40 fashion, accessories and jewelry shops.

In Barcelona you'll find the most distinguished boutiques in the Eixample district. On a stroll through broad streets and avenues like the beautiful Paseo de Gracia and the Avenida Diagonal you'll see the best Spanish and international fashion.

You can enjoy all the magic of the Costa del Sol whilst you do a little shopping. You'll love the incredible shop windows in the famous Calle Larios in Málaga and the surrounding area, or you could visit Marbella and go shopping at the Avenues of Ricardo Soriano and Ramón y Cajal, and the Boulevard Príncipe Alfonso Hohenlohe.

CRAFTS

Discovering local arts and crafts is another form of tourism and you'll be able to find a really special souvenir. Visit workshops and small factories and see the creators in action.

Find incredible things like Toledo Damascening elements, traditional, hand-embroidered Manila shawls and wonderful pottery from Sargadelos (Galicia), Lladró and Manises (Valencia) and Seville's Triana neighbourhood.

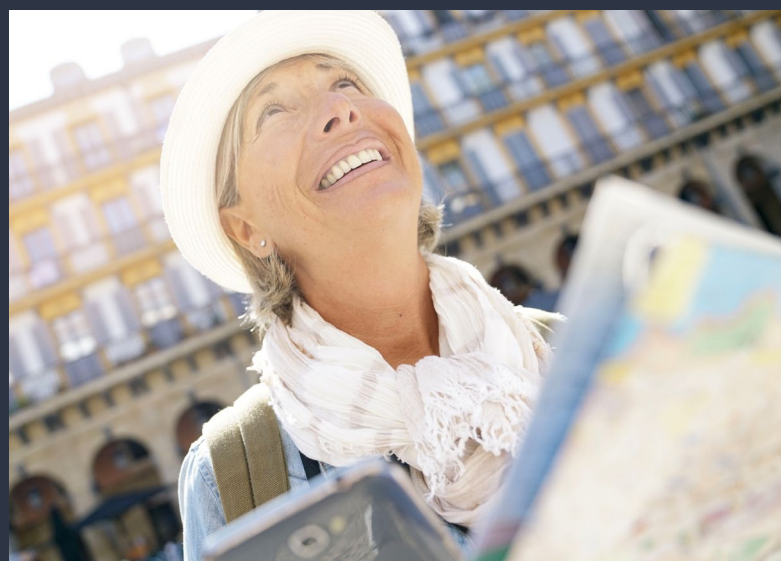

TAX FREE

The advantages of shopping in Spain go beyond the quality and the variety of products. If you live outside the European Union, you can claim a refund on VAT.

All you need to do is show your passport and ask for the invoice and tax-free electronic refund form in the shop. Before you check in your baggage at the airport or port, you must validate the tax-free form digitally at the DIVA interaction stations or at the customs tax-free stamping offices (you must stamp them within three months of purchase). Don't forget to take your receipts, passport, boarding pass and the goods you are asking the refund for.

Next, you can claim your refund. You have two options: through the shop by sending your stamped tax-free forms, or through an authorised tax-free management company. They all have refund stations at the main Spanish airports or borders. This is a paid service. You can ask for the VAT refund to be made to your credit card, by bank transfer or by international bank draft.

ENJOY THE NATURAL SURROUNDINGS

Explore Spain's natural areas and discover its extraordinary biological diversity. Feel the beauty and the magic of woods, rivers and mountains that you've never even dreamt of. From north to south and from east to west, over a quarter of Spain's territory is dedicated to the preservation of nature. Come and find out for yourself!

HIKING

With over 60,000 kilometres of approved trails and a mild climate, Spain is one of the best destinations for practising this sport. Amazingly contrasting landscapes and a wide variety of accommodation enable you to make wonderful connection with unspoiled nature.

GREENWAY CYCLING ROUTES

Take the challenge of discovering Spain in a different and original way. Greenways are picturesque routes which follow disused railway lines and can be found throughout the country. Old, wooden railway sleepers have been recycled as kilometre posts and to construct railings. These trails, with gentle gradients and broad bends, are especially suitable for hikers, cyclists and people with reduced mobility.

HORSE-RIDING ROUTES

Discover Spain's natural treasures on horseback. Gallop through meadows and valleys, visit medieval villages... Choose one of the organised horseback routes in any region of Spain and enjoy the freedom you get from riding on the back of a horse. There are a large number of riding schools near some of the most beautiful and out-of-the-way corners of Spain.

Andalusia, where the purebred Spanish horse originated and fighting bulls graze, is the best place to learn how they breed these animals which have such a long-standing tradition in Spain.

The areas surrounding Seville, Córdoba and Jerez de la Frontera (Cádiz) are the nerve centres for breeding these species and where you can learn about the daily routines of the horses and bulls from the breeders themselves.

DISCOVER THE NATIONAL PARKS

Take a trip through any of our 16 national parks and enjoy an unforgettable experience. Come and discover the Picos de Europa, the natural habitat of deer, wolves and bears, or extraordinary volcanic landscapes like Timanfaya and the Teide in the Canary Islands. Marvel at the beauty of Las Tablas de Daimiel and the Cabañeros Park, two unique ecosystems where you can observe a wide variety of birds and large mammals.

In the Pyrenees, in the Aigüestortes i Estany de Sant Maurici and Ordesa y Monte Perdido National Parks there are numerous historical trails, lakes and waterfalls, as well as beautiful villages nestling in exceptionally beautiful natural surroundings.

The Sierra Nevada is very near Granada and has two of the highest mountain peaks in Spain, Mulhacén and Veleta. An ideal destination for those who love the mountains and are looking to explore the picturesque white-washed villages in the Alpujarra region of Granada. Another option in Andalusia is to explore the Sierra de Nieves in Malaga.

In Galicia you'll find the natural paradise of Islas Atlánticas. From high up at the Monte Faro lookout point you'll get beautiful panoramic views of the sea, the Arousa and Vigo estuaries and one of the most important colonies of sea-gulls in Europe.

OBSERVING LYNXES IN THE DOÑANA NATIONAL PARK (HUELVA)

Enjoy the incredible experience of tracking an Iberian lynx. It is the world's most threatened feline and its only habitat is the Iberian Peninsula where the population is recovering thanks to a programme of breeding in captivity and release into the natural environment. There are companies in Doñana and the Sierra de Andújar Nature Reserve which specialise in organising tours to observe animals in the wild.

BIRDWATCHING

Take your binoculars and get a closer look at the incredible variety of landscapes and birds. As it is located right in an important migratory corridor, thousands of birds choose Spain each year to breed and to rest.

There is a wealth of bird life in areas like the marshlands in Huelva and the mountains in Extremadura, Navarre and Castile-León. You'd be surprised how easy it is to observe birds of prey and forest and water birds just about anywhere in Spain.

Examples include the cranes at the Gallocanta lagoon (Zaragoza), the great bustard in the Villafáfila reserve (Zamora) and the flamincos in Fuente de Piedra (Malaga).

YOGA SURROUNDED BY NATURE

Find your mental, physical and emotional balance in a different way in the heart of nature. Enjoy yoga with the breeze caressing your face and the relaxing music of a waterfall in the background.

Here you'll find a wide selection of destinations, from Lanzarote in the Canary Islands to the Sierra de Tentudia, in the south of the province of Badajoz, where the conditions are ideal for making a profound connection with your surroundings.

ENJOY THE SUNSHINE AND THE SEA

In Spain you'll find beaches for relaxing and swimming whenever you like. Lapped by the waters of the Mediterranean, the Cantabrian and the Atlantic, it has beaches to suit every possible taste: unspoiled, urban, family-friendly...

Beaches with the Q for Quality certifying the excellence of the water and beach sand can be found in ever greater numbers on the Spanish coasts.

▲ BALEARIC ISLANDS

Spain is one of the countries with the most Blue Flags: here you can enjoy the sunshine and the sea in the best possible conditions. There's no doubt we have one of the best coastlines in Europe.

Take advantage of travelling in the low season and forget about the hustle and bustle. The fantastic climate means you can enjoy the best destinations any time you like, with complete tranquillity and comfort.

There are countless options, including the Canary Islands, where there is sunshine and pleasant temperatures all year round, eight contrasting islands, with numerous unspoiled beaches where you can hide away, urban beaches with comprehensive services and friendly people.

The Balearic Islands are also idyllic. Surrounded by pine forests that go right down to the shore, rocky coves with crystal clear waters and white sandy beaches in a turquoise sea, they will make an indelible impression.

The Mediterranean coast guarantees warm temperatures and equal measures of fun, recreation, peace and quiet. There are destinations like the Costa Cálida (Murcia), with average yearly temperatures of over 19° C. The beautiful waters on the Costa del Azahar (Castellón), Valencia and Costa Blanca (Alicante) are a haven of peace. Costa Brava (Catalonia) and Costa del Sol (Andalusia) are also options to discover and fall in love with the charming Spanish Mediterranean coast.

SPAS AND NATURAL SPRINGS IN SPAIN

Take a well-earned rest in a spa resort. There is plenty of accommodation all over Spain specialising in wellness, with everything you need to make that stress disappear. Some also have natural thermal springs and treatments using local therapeutic mud.

Both in winter and in summer, Ourense (Galicia) is an ideal Spa destination with options to suit all tastes. Apart from a wide selection of spas, the city also has free, thermal springs in extraordinary surroundings, the Miño River waterfront. A five-kilometre trail where you can hike or cycle, and relax in the medicinal mineral waters.

Here, for example, you can bathe in the Muíño da Veiga natural springs, next to an old watermill and where the water temperature is about 40° C.

📍 www.turismodeourense.gal

Reinvigorate your body while enjoying historical surroundings, for example, at Castilla Termal Monasterio de Valbuena, in the province of Valladolid. At the Ribera del Duero, you can choose original treatments and thermal pools at one of the best preserved 12th century Cistercian monasteries in Europe. You can also live a similar experience at other wellness properties located in historical buildings in Olmedo and Burgo de Osma (Castile and Leon), Brihuega (Castile-La Mancha) and Solares (Cantabria).

Discovered by the Iberians in 5th century BC and used by the Romans, the Balneario de Archena (Murcia) thermal springs are a delight. This modern complex has two large thermal pools with water jets, waterfalls and Jacuzzis, all in the incredible surroundings of the Ricote Valley.

The area also has three spectacular hotels and excellent spa facilities with a broad selection of therapeutical treatments. Treat yourself and recover your well-being.

📍 balneariodearchena.com

Very near Granada, at the foot of the Sierra de Tejada you'll find the Alhama de Granada Spa, a magnificent centre built around monumental, 12th-century Moorish baths. The central room, where the spring rises, is an Almohad cistern with beautiful Caliphal arches and a domed roof, an extraordinary Andalusian historical heritage.

The treatment area is conveniently located in the same building as the accommodation. So you can enjoy this endless fountain of health from the medicinal springs in complete tranquillity.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ENTERING SPAIN

EU CITIZENS

The documentation required to travel to Spain varies according to your country of origin. If you're from the European Union, Switzerland, Iceland, Norway or Liechtenstein, you only need a valid passport or ID document.

OTHER COUNTRIES

You'll need your passport or a valid visa in the case of countries without any special treaties. You can also use a residence permit or a long-term visa issued by another EU country, or by Switzerland, Norway, Iceland or Liechtenstein. The maximum stay in Spain is 90 days. We recommend you contact the Spanish Consulate or Embassy in your country to confirm these requirements before starting your trip. You can also check which countries require a visa on the website of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, European Union and Cooperation.

TRANSPORT

AIRPORTS

In most Spanish airports there are airline companies offering connections to major cities all over the world. The airports offering the greatest number of international connections are Adolfo Suárez Madrid-Barajas, Barcelona-El Prat, Palma de Mallorca, Málaga-Costa del Sol, Gran Canaria, Alicante-Elche and Tenerife South.

TRAIN

The Spanish National Railway Network (RENFE) links all the country's main cities and regions, and offers discounts for the over 60s. The unquestionable stars of the system are the AVE high-speed trains which serve over 30 tourist destinations, with Madrid as their main hub. To give you an idea: you can travel from Madrid to Valencia in only 1.5 hours, or from Madrid to Barcelona in two and a half hours. As a tourist we recommend the Renfe Spain Pass, valid on all the long- and medium-distance AVE routes. Also, if you travel by AVE or long distance, you can buy the combined Cercanías tickets, and travel for free in Cercanías and Rodalies services. The AVE network also has the AVE Internacional service that links Madrid and Barcelona with the main cities in France.

TOURIST TRAINS

Slow down, and enjoy the countryside and the good food on board one of these unique trains. The Transcantábrico Gran Lujo and the Costa Verde Express take you across the north of Spain, on board real railway gems: trains equipped with spacious suites with en suite bathroom, hydro sauna, turbo massage, steam bath and much more... You'll stop in unique destinations like Leon with its cathedral, the famous sculpture of Peine de los Vientos in San Sebastián, the Guggenheim Museum Bilbao, the coastal city of Santander, the Altamira cave near Santillana del Mar, the Picos de Europa National Park in Asturias, and the cathedral of Santiago de Compostela.

Another option is the Al-Ándalus train, an opportunity to travel around different areas in mainland Spain on board a genuine palace on rails. You'll love the belle époque décor, the luxurious sleeping quarters and spacious saloon cars and the mouthwatering cuisine. To discover the magic of Southern Spain, you will travel from Seville to Malaga (or vice-versa) over seven amazing days.

CRUISES

Spain is the gateway to the Mediterranean and one of the European countries with the greatest volume of cruise traffic. In addition to the stopovers in various places of interest, another popular option is cruise packages that combine stays on land. Barcelona and Mallorca are two of the destinations preferred by travellers for spending a few days before going back on board, or after completing their cruise. There are also other points on the Mediterranean coast that are common stopover places on cruise routes: Ibiza, Minorca, Valencia and Málaga.

VEHICLE HIRE

Travelling around Spain by car will make it easy for you to visit small towns and enjoy spectacular landscapes. You can book your car online and pick it up at the destination of your choice. If you're coming from a non-EU country you must have an International Driving Licence.

ACCOMMODATION

HOTEL NETWORKS

In Spain there are over 200 hotel chains with more than 17,000 hotels, not including the thousands of independent establishments and rural accommodation. Rates vary according to the category of the hotel (from 1 to 5 stars) and the season.

Take advantage of the benefits, packages and special offers that the different chains have for seniors, with features like all-inclusive and special services.

PARADOR HOTELS

Spain has an extensive network of Parador Hotels which are ideal for rest and relaxation and enjoy all mod cons. They are located in delightful historical buildings with up-to-date facilities and blend perfectly with their picturesque surroundings. You can enjoy unforgettable experiences in palaces, monasteries, convents and castles. These places are not only interesting from the point of view of tourism, but also offer excellent gastronomic options, with all the best in traditional and modern cuisine. They ensure the highest quality standards and comfort for travellers, with discounts for the over-60s.

THE SPANISH DAY

Shop opening-times are very flexible, department stores and shopping centres stay open all day from 10 am to 10 pm in most cities.

TOLEDO PARADOR HOTEL

Spanish mealtimes are rather later than in other countries. Breakfast tends to be between 8 and 10 am. Lunch is served from 1 to 3.30 pm. Dinner in Spain is usually served from 8.30 to 11 pm.

CLIMATE

Spain is one of the warmest countries in Europe, with over 3,000 hours of sunshine a year. The predominant climate is temperate Mediterranean, which ensures dry summers and winters with even temperatures. The weather in the north tends to be rainier and with mild summers. The Canary Islands have an excellent climate with year-round sunshine and an annual average temperature of 22°C. In areas at higher altitudes like the Sierra Nevada and the Cordillera Cantábrica mountains it often snows from early winter to late spring.
